Harry F. Ward, the Methodist churchman who led the ALPD less significant to American life than that of fellow travelers like Ward, members at all times cut their consciences to fit the current Soviet fashion. That they were quoted earlier in Eugene P. Link, Labor-Religion Prophet: The Times The Poor and the People Called Methodists - Google Books Result