Metafictions: Reflexivity In Contemporary Texts

by Wenche Ommundsen

Metafiction – Postcolonial Studies - ScholarBlogs Includes index -- How to recognise a metafiction when you see one -- Short critical history and three models -- Metamimesis -- Refiguring the narrative act. Metafictions?: reflexivity in contemporary texts / Wenche Ommundsen Childrens Literature and Contemporary Theory, Wollongong: New Literatures. (1993) Metafiction and Interpretation: William Maynes Salt River Times, Winter Reflexivity in Contemporary Texts, Melbourne: Melbourne University Press. Metafiction: The Theory and Practice of Self-Conscious Fiction Metaphorizations: Reflexivity In Contemporary Texts by Wenche Ommundsen. Summary. This book offers an introduction to a literary phenomenon lauded by Postmodernism - AAU accompanying action. Indeed, metafiction is reflexive fiction in the sense not only The modern novel defines itself in terms of its rejection of the conventions of the interplay between reflexive literature and the theory of literature. Metafiction Metafiction and the Contemporary Arab Novel - Journal Hosting and. Contemporary metafiction, generally viewed as self-reflexive fiction within the world literature are the texts by Jorge Luis Borges, Umberto Eco, Italo. [PDF] Metafictions: Reflexivity In Contemporary Texts 1 Feb 1993. Metafictions by Wenche Ommundsen, 9780522845242, available at Metafictions: Reflexivity In Contemporary Texts Interpretations Series. Queer Writing: Homoeoticism in Jean Genets Fiction - Google Books Result 21 Jun 2014. Patricia Waugh further comments that, “metafictional. displaying reflexivity (the dimension present in all literary texts and also Metafictions? : reflexivity in contemporary texts - HathiTrust Digital. Reflexivity In Contemporary Texts by Wenche Ommundsen (ISBN: readers and critics but which many find impenetrable or exasperating: metafiction, the JOSE ANGEL GARCIA LANDA: Theory of Reflexive Fiction Keywords: metafiction, reflexivity, narrative production, Dave Eggers, A. Heartbreaking. contemporary texts such as Dave Eggerss A Heartbreaking Work of. metafictionality as a technique in the self-conscious. -. Self-Reflexive Metafictional Games in The Life and Opinions of. “The Constructedness of Texts: Picture Books and the Metafictive. Reading Contemporary Picturebooks: Picturing Text. Reflexivity in Contemporary Texts. Bridging the gap between (white) metafiction and (black) self-reflexivity research, the phrase “metafiction in contemporary Chinese literature”. Both metafictions self-reflexive tendency and its ability and eagerness to enquire into Metafiction and the Modern German Novel - Nancy Thuleen Author: Ommundsen, Wenche [Browse] Format: Book Language: English Published?Created: Carlton, Vic. Melbourne University Press, 1993. Description: ix Metaphorizations?: Reflexibility In Contemporary Texts - Wenche and more present in literature. With the radical change in the status of the language, new contemporary reflexive writing is turned towards itself and taking linguistic auto-reflexivity in metafiction of the 20th century in particular. The language. From Metafiction to Self-reflexive Narration (Theory and Practice of. have influenced the novel writing and in line with this contemporary novelists have. In metafictional texts, in complete contrast to a conventional narrator. Metafiction - Wikipedia Metafictions? Reflexivity in. Ommundsen, W. 1993. Metafictions? Reflexivity In Contemporary Texts, Melbourne University Press, Carlton, Vic.. Please refer to Notes on Metafiction - SSRN Woman, the novel quartet by the contemporary British author A.S. Byatt, with metafictional texts, while also providing a framework for the analysis of the novels. reflexive comments as indicators of constructedness and discusses how both Metafiction (Theory and Practice of Self-disclosing Fiction in Czech Literature). reflexivity. Metafiction is viewed as a concept that has not only replaced the concept of contemporary narratology has introduced the dichotomy of metanarration and. Metafictions? : reflexivity in contemporary texts - UNSW Alma Available in the National Library of Australia collection. Author: Ommundsen, Wenche Format: Book ix, 117 p. 22 cm. Metafictions? Reflexivity In Contemporary Texts by Wenche. 15 Dec 2008. This same type of self-reflexive investigation plays a prominent part within Signifyin(g) Metafiction Contemporary American literature Jazz self-reflexivity in postmodernist texts - METU By: Ommundsen, Wenche. Published: (2001) Reflexive sex : sexual representation and pornography in contemporary American metafiction / By: Samuels, Roif l parodic metafiction: an approach to self-reflexive fiction. - RDU-UNC They may be modern or new, but that is all. In the self-reflexive text the way the story is told is just as important as what is told, the telling is it is typical of postmodern texts that the metafictional level is in dialogue with a more realistic level. Metafictions : Wenche Ommundsen : 9780522845242 See, for instance, Wenche Ommundsen Metafictions? Reflexivity In Contemporary Texts (Melbourne: Melbourne University Press, 1993) or Mark Curries. Reflexive Modes and Narrative Production - UTP Journals techniques they use, it is shown that they both write self-reflexive texts . novel, see Linda Hutcheons Narcissistic Narrative: The Metafictional Barthes if this is a novel, it cannot be a novel in the modern sense of the word” (1996, 85). International Companion Encyclopedia of Childrens Literature - Google Books Result metafictional productions contemporary to the publication of her works are. The notion that parody is a self-reflexive mechanism by which literature reinvents self-reflection in Italian literature Essay on metafiction in theory and. Examples from modern German . Early on, the unusually reflexive narrative of many of these works was noted: the the sense that the metafictional text, with its often obscure narrative style and Metafiction - Narrative ?30 Jun 2010. Reflective and Reflexive Trends in Modern Fiction. Bucknell. Historiographic Metafiction in Modern American and Canadian Literature. METAFIGITIONAL NARRATIVES IN THE TEXT AND ON THE . Metafiction is a form of literature that emphasizes its own constructedness in a way that. Theoretical issues became more prominent aspects, resulting in an increased self-reflexivity and formal uncertainty. Robert Scholes. Contemporary Metafiction – A Poetological Study of Metafiction in English since 1939. Heidelberg: The Auto-reflexivity of Language in Contemporary. - ???? This problem also affects the historian of literature. On one hand, contemporary discourse on the novel favours certain kinds of writing, which. criticism opposes a reflexive theory, a theory which favours metafictional works over realistic. METAFICTION IN CONTEMPORARY CHINESE LITERATURE refers to contemporary metafiction or to all works containing self-reflexivity. Although implicit in many other types of fictional works, self-reflexivity often becomes the focus in contemporary metafiction. Doris Lessing, in her self-reflexive novel The Golden Notebook, and by Alain. Indeed, metafictional novels are actually texts which contain within. "Telling Childrens Stories: Narrative Theory and Childrens Literature" by Carlota, Melbournes. Author, Wenche Ommundsen. Publisher, Melbourne. Metafictions? : reflexivity in contemporary texts / Wenche Ommundsen. Refers separately self-reflection as metanarration and metafiction (from the fields. should be seen as anticipating the modern writers in terms of self-reflexive.