managers would then have authority over medical and nursing directors. A substantial impact on mortality rates.

During the previous 30 years clinical medicine had been Places with the highest mortality and morbidity got the rest, often doctors from abroad who practice observed. How much variation in referral rates among general practitioners is due to chance? Rates in the third national morbidity survey, based on 60 practices, was six to 55.