What is the difference between directory listing websites and classified directories? Directory listing websites typically contain entries about websites, including links to those sites. In most web directories, entries are about the entire website, rather than the different sections or businesses.